MOKUAWEWE ACTIVE.

Lava River Flowing Toward South Kona.

Mokuaweewo, the slumbering crater on Mauna Loa forty five miles from Hilo has become wide awake. The awakening came at 12:45 p. m. Tuesday last. Great volumes of smoke arose from the higher summit of Mauna Loa and observers knew that the expected had happened. Tuesday night the reflected glare from the clouds above Mokuaweewo was seen as far as Lahaina and Molokai. The people on the lower side of this island were witnesses of a magnificent play of the fire lights shooting upward from the crater, and telling of the boiling rivers that were seeking an outlet.

Two Hawaiians employed on a dairy high up on the other side, reported Wednesday morning that the lava had broken over the rim and was rolling down in six streams toward Kahuku ranch. After some time these six streams merged into one.

Thursday morning, Manager Bidgood of the Volcano House reported that during the night before, the illumination above the big mountain was a splendid spectacle. The employees at Pahala plantation seem to have the superior point of view. Wednesday night they viewed the burning mountain top through long hours. Their report is that the flow is making its way along the main crest of Mauna Loa toward South Kona and that from their observation, they estimated the flow to have reached a length of from 12 to 15 miles. The progress of the flow as against the night before was plain.

Sunday morning a party will leave Pahala to get a close view. A trail leads up the mountain from Pahala over which the trip can be made in fourteen or fifteen hours on horseback.

The outbreak has caused great excitement but no apprehension and the general expressed hope is that the activity will continue all winter. When the flow of lava reaches lower and more accessible levels, large numbers of people will go over to the other side to see the show.

Bloodhounds Chase Robbers.

Robbers entered the servants' cottage on the premises of J. W. Mason on Wai-anueue street last Saturday night and stole a trunk containing money and valuable papers. The alarm was immediately given to the Sheriff and officers with bloodhounds put on the trail. The trunk was located near the rock crusher on the banks of the Wailuku river, where it had been abandoned by the robbers. The Sheriff was pleased with the performance of the bloodhounds, although they failed to locate the housebreakers, owing to the heavy rainfall.

Lambert Qualified.

W. H. Lambert received a wireless telegram Wednesday evening from Honolulu stating that matters regarding registration had been adjusted and to send along his nomination papers.

The inference from this telegram is that the Supreme Court has decided that registration books are to be opened this year. The only alternative inference would be that the Supreme Court has held that a failure to register does not disqualify a citizen from being a candidate for office.

To Volcano House.

There will be an excursion to the Volcano Saturday leaving by the Hilo Railroad at 3 o'clock p. m. At Mountain View the Volcano Stables stage line will carry the passengers to the Volcano House. Excursionists will be returned to Hilo by 9:30 a. m. Monday morning. The entire round trip including meals and lodging at the Volcano House will be made at a cost of only $10.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

Case of W. H. Lambert Discussed by Party Leaders.

The Republican County Committee met last Saturday night at Republican headquarters and perfected an organization for carrying forward the work of the campaign.

The officers elected were J. D. Lewis, Chairman; Dr. J. Holland, Vice Chairman; S. G. Walker, Secretary; Joe Pritchard, Treasurer. The Executive Committee is composed of Messrs. Chas. Swain, Albert Horner, Dr. J. Holland, Jim Morris and T. M. Rowland. The Executive Committee was also empowered to serve as finance committee. T. M. Rowland was appointed to look after the printing. Jim Morris was appointed as a hall committee.

After organization the most serious question that arose was that of the qualification of Mr. W. H. Lambert, one of the Republican nominees for member of the County Board. Mr. Lambert is in exactly the same predicament as Mr. Fairchild on Kauai. He did not register last year.

Pending the decision of the Fairchild case by the Supreme Court, the local committee decided to secure the proper signatures to the nominations of A. B. Lindsay of Honokaa. Should Lambert prove to be disqualified Mr. Lindsay's name will go on the ticket. Mr. Lindsay missed the nomination in the convention by only a very narrow margin.

The County Act requires that a nominee for any County office in addition to other qualifications must be an elector of the District in which he resides. Last year Mr. Lambert was away at the Coast and could not register. This year the registration books are not open, therefore the difficulty.

The Republican Headquarters have moved from the Peacock block to the room beneath the telephone office. The latter place has two rooms and affords greater privacy for executive sessions of committeemen and candidates.

Republican Meetings.

An enthusiastic Republican meeting was held at Twelve Miles Wednesday night. The speakers were S. L. Desha, Captain Brown, George H. Williams and Jim Lewis. The speakers found many chances to enlighten the voters of that vicinity on matters which had been handled recklessly by the opposition. The crowd present filled the house and was enthusiastic for the Republican ticket.

Tonight at Papaikou there will be a Republican meeting, at which a number of the Republican candidates will speak. Among them will be L. A. Andrews and S. L. Desha.

Last night a meeting was held at Pepeekeo, where the following speakers dispensed Republican doctrine: S. L. Desha, Jim Lewis, George Williams and Captain Brown.

The big Republican meeting of the week will be held at the Japanese Theater Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. A full house is desired. Home Rulers, Republicans and Democrats are invited. The speakers of the evening will be W. H. Smith, C. A. Stobie, E. N. Holmes, Joe Vierra and L. A. Andrews. This meeting will be the first big cannon of the campaign. Let everybody come.

Cotillion Dances.

A meeting of the Cotillion Club Executive Committee was held Wednesday evening and arrangements for the first club dance to be given tonight were completed. Those in charge will endeavor to make the opening ball a success in every way. A long list of new members were filed and action on these applications will be taken in the near future. Mr. Ross and Mrs. J. T. Lewis were added to the committee on refreshments.

The committee decided to give the first german of the year in November on Thanksgiving evening. The german will be in charge of Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Rice. These ladies with their assistants will make the Thanksgiving german one to be remembered.

Elks Ball Team Challenge.

F. M. Brooks, manager of the Elks' baseball team of Honolulu, writes that the Elks want to cross bats with a Hilo team. The Elks team will come by the Kinau, play ball Thursday and return Friday morning. P. C. Beamer believes he has a nine that can whip the visitors, and Mr. Wright of the Volcano Stables offers the use of Hoolulu Park on liberal terms. The Honolulu team will be accompanied by a small regiment of rooters. Half rates have been offered by Wilder's. The baseball men have the proposition under consideration.

To the Crater.

Claude Bidgood left Hilo Thursday morning to get as near the crater of Mokuaweewo as possible. He took a good mount at Mountain View and rode to Kau, there to take the trail to the summit of Mauna Loa. Mr. Bidgood intends to get back as soon as possible with full details of the volcanic action. He will also be able to tell others how best to get there.

AGRICULTURISTS MEET.

Jared Smith Makes Address to Hilo Farmers.

The meeting of the Hilo Agricultural Society last Saturday was the most interesting one held since the society was organized. The attendance was large and among those present was Jared Smith, Director of the U. S. Agricultural Experiment Station of Honolulu. The floor was given to Mr. Smith and his talk was full of interesting and valuable information. He first stated that the Federal Government through the Agricultural Department was determined to promote diversified agriculture in Hawaii in every possible way along the lines of greatest pecuniary benefit to Hawaii and her people. He is abundantly satisfied with the work done so far, and is encouraged with the prospect. Mr. Smith said he has formed a deep and abiding faith in Hawaii's future and believes that prosperity, equal to the fondest dreams of the optimist is in store for the people.

When asked what products would best reward the champions of diversified agriculture, Mr. Smith said there are many. He said that the question of ability to produce could not be questioned as that had been demonstrated in many lines. He said the problem is that of a market for the stuff we can grow, and emphasized the necessity of growing staple products for export.

Among these he mentioned tobacco with which he is experimenting on the Louissou coffee ranch in Hamakua. He stated that the experiment had not proceeded far enough to demonstrate the outcome, but that his department is hopeful of proving that tobacco can be profitably grown on Hawaii. He named manioc as another staple for which a good market is assured. Manioc starch is preferred by the manufacturers of textiles and paper for sizing purposes, and manioc starch commands a good margin over any of the mainland starches. Mr. Smith also mentioned the castor bean as a product of certain profit, even though not a banana crop. He recommended the growing of cabbage and beans for the local market, stating that 3,000 tons of beans are imported annually.

One of the natural products of the Islands is awa root. This commands a price of $160 to $200 per ton. The preparation for market consists of sun drying and packing in 40 pound bags. It is used in the drug trade and in the manufacture of proprietary medicines. Sisal was named as a product of promise and pineapples and bananas were discussed as sure things. Mr. Smith says the Hawaiian grown pineapple is superior to any other offered in the market and the only drawback is that not enough are offered. Mr. Smith named the pineapple and the banana as articles of agriculture which are beyond the experimental stage.

The vanilla bean was mentioned as a crop, which while grown in Napoosoo, is not as promising as others for this country. Mr. Smith complimented the members of the Agricultural Society and asked that papers read at its meetings be forwarded to him for publication in the Department bulletins.
